

KEEP WALKING - NEPAL SOLUKHUMBU - DUMJI FESTIVAL TREK

DATES: 21ST APRIL TO 29TH APRIL 2018 & 2019

Thank you for your interest in this trekking journey which I have set at 'entry level', effectively meaning it's readily achievable by those with a medium level of fitness.

The Journey offers a combination of natural beauty, culture and adventure in the beautiful Solukhumbu Valley which is home both to my people (the Sherpa) and the highest peak in the world, Everest, which we call Sagarmatha.

Trekking commences following a flight from Kathmandu to Paphlu (around 35 mountains of the Himalaya range, including Everest, Lhotse, Nupse, Kantiga, minutes) and follows trails around the valley with opportunity to view Numbur and Karyalung( secret god of solukhumbu valley local known as Shering Yul Lha ) On trekking further up the valley through the small villages of Junbesi, Phurteng and Pankarma to Phougmucho, first-hand experience of Sherpa culture is realised, and a visit to Thuptenchholing Monastery( one of the largest Tibetan refugee camp in the solukhumbu region) adds significantly to impressions gained.

Then down through Mopung and Edingma on the way to Junbesi for the Dumji Festival, where trekkers spend a full day and two nights joining in with the festivities and / or undertaking short walks into the neighboring valley as the mood takes. Finally, a walk down to Phaplu for the flight back to Kathmandu.

The majesty of the Himalayas is evident each day as trails are followed through a rich variety of flora and fauna. At this time of the year, rhododendrons in full flower are prominent when passing many mountain streams along the route. I would be pleased to have you on the journey and to introduce you to our country and way of life while you travel as part of my extended family.

An 5 day Lodge based trek.
Introductory level trek: general level of fitness required – an 'everybody' trek.

DAILY MOVEMENTS

SOLUKHUMBU - DUMJI FESTIVAL TREK

Day 1 – Arrive Kathmandu: Sherpa staff transfers participants to a lovely hotel Tibet, Evening meal with the Sherpa leader, allowing time to meet and mix with others in the group. Overnight in Kathmandu.

Day 2 - Sightseeing in Kathmandu, including Boudha stupa, one of the largest Buddhist stupas; and Pashupatinath temple, one of the most significant Hindu temples of Shiva. Overnight in Kathmandu.

Day 3 – Fly to Phaplu (35 mins - 2400m) A very scenic flight from Kathmandu to Phaplu followed by a walk down through a lovely valley to the DudhKosi river reaching Beni for lunch. Then a gradual climb through pine forests and beautiful Sherpa villages with arrival at beautiful Sherpa village of Junbesi (2750m) in time for afternoon tea. (4-5hrs)

Day 4 and 5 – Side treks around Junbesi and experience the dumji festival. One of the great festivals held in villages within the Everest region every year to celebrate and honor the anniversary of Guru Rinpoche’s birth on the lotus flower. Guru Rinpoche introduced Buddhism to Tibet in the 8th century. His teachings and translations have been given to hundreds of disciples. It is understood that for the benefit of future generations he concealed thousands of hidden teachings in many places. The festival brings the villagers together from across the region and there is much dancing and merrymaking in addition to the traditional Sherpa rituals being performed by the monks. A side walks into the valley or monastery is available for the energetic.

Day 6 – Return trek to Everest View Point at Phurteng (3040m), Weather dependent, views of Everest, Lhotse, Nupse, Kantiga, Amadablam, Thamserku and Numbur may be enjoyed.

Day 7 Walk to Phaplu (4-5 hours – 2400m) moving down the valley through pine forests and beautiful Sherpa villages to the Dudh Koshi river and Beni for morning tea: then a gradual climb to Phaplu for an overnight. This is the last night with the full crew of porters and Sherpa guides and a time to celebrate with a meal together. Appreciation in the form of tips may be expressed at this time to these people who make the trip such an enjoyable adventure.

Day 8 – Return flight to Kathmandu, and a rest of day at leisure before joining again for an evening meal.

Day 9 – Journey formally concludes after breakfast with transportation to the airport, unless other arrangements have been made.

Sherpa People

The best known and admired of all of Nepal’s ethnic groups, the Sherpa migrated to the high valleys south of Mt Everest from eastern Tibet about 450 years ago. Their Tibetan origins are reflected in their language, customs and religion. Our staff and crew will all be local Sherpa people from Solukhumbu, the valley adjacent to the Everest region. The walk is in their ‘back yard’, so the many questions about the land and its people can be answered promptly and accurately. The Sherpa people were originally employed by the first mountaineers attempting to climb Mount Everest. It is from the courage and strength of these local people that the name ‘Sherpa’ has been collectively adopted and used to describe a climbing guide working across Nepal.
